INTELLIGENCE RESPECTING THE INSTITUTION.

1. QUALIFICATIONS FOR ADMISSION. The Institution is adapted to the instruction of graduates, and others whose attainments enable them, along with graduates, to proceed profitably in theological studies.*

It is open for the admission of those persons only, who give evidence of their possessing genuine piety, with suitable gifts and attainments, and of their being influenced by proper motives in wishing to pursue

* Applicants for admission, who are not graduates, must, besides a competent knowledge of English Grammar, Arithmetic, Geography, History, and other common branches of an English education, be prepared for examination in the following books, namely :

In Latin,—Cæsar's Commentaries, Virgil, and Cicero's Select Orations ; in Greek,—Jacobs' Greek Reader, the four Gospels, and Negris' Orations of Æschines and Demosthenes—or instead of those Orations, the Cyropædia or the Anabasis of Xenophon, or the first volume of the Græca Majora as far as the third part ; in Mathematics and Natural Philosophy,—some approved work in Algebra, the first book in Playfair's Geometry, or as much of Legendre's Geometry as is equivalent, Olmstead's Natural Philosophy, or some other work equivalent ; in Rhetoric,—Campbell's Philosophy of Rhetoric ; in Logic and Intellectual Philosophy,—Whately's Logic, and Abercrombie on the Intellectual Powers ; in Moral Philosophy,—Wayland's Elements of Moral Science. It will also be expected of applicants who are not graduates, that they have had considerable practice in the writing of English Composition, and in Declamation.

theological studies, and who, moreover, present certificates from the churches of which they are members, approving of their devoting themselves to the work of the ministry.

Those who offer themselves for an advanced standing in the Institution, will be expected to sustain an examination on all the studies and subjects to which the class have attended that they propose to enter, except in cases where the applicants have been already connected with some Theological Institution.

2. COURSE OF STUDY. The regular course occupies three years, and embraces the following departments :

1. Biblical Literature and Interpretation.—The Hebrew Language ; Greek of the New Testament ; Biblical Geography, Chronology, and Antiquities ; Principles of Interpretation ; History of the Origin and Transmission of the Sacred Canon ; Exegetical Essays ; Interpretation of portions of the Original Scriptures.

2. Christian Theology.—An examination of the present state of the science ; its relation to Biblical Exegesis, Ethics, and Mental Philosophy ; a critique on the principal works on theology, and the various methods adopted ; Lectures, Discussions and Essays on the subjects embraced in a course of Systematic Theology ; and the Evidences of Christianity, with special reference to the new forms of skepticism.

3. Ecclesiastical History.—Instruction on the history of Christianity, from the birth of the Saviour till the present period, including a view of the spread of Christianity, the rise and influence of important errors, and the origin and present condition of the different denominations of professed Christians.

4. Sacred Rhetoric and Pastoral Duties.—Exercises in composition and elocution; Lectures on the composition and delivery of sermons, criticism of original plans and sermons, and examinations of select printed discourses; Lectures on the nature and duties of the Christian ministry.

3. ENGLISH COURSE. This course occupies two years, and consists of a selection from the English studies of the regular theological course.

4. EXPENSES. The expense of boarding at the Institution is one dollar and seventy-five cents per week; but arrangements exist which enable those students who choose to associate themselves for the purpose, to obtain board at considerably less expense. Washing is at the rate of thirty-seven and a half cents per dozen. For fuel and light, the sum of seven or eight dollars a year is sufficient. A reasonable charge is made for fuel used in the lecture-rooms, and for other necessary public expenses. No charge is made for tuition, room-rent and furniture, or use of the Library.

5. THE LIBRARY, at present, contains nearly four thousand volumes.

6. READING-ROOM. The Reading-Room is supplied with the principal religious and literary periodicals.

7. ANNIVERSARY. The next anniversary of the Institution will occur on the third Wednesday in August.

8. VACATIONS. There are two vacations in the year, each of six weeks ; one commencing on the day of the anniversary, the other on the last Wednesday in March.

A recess also of ten days is allowed during the winter term, so arranged as to include the last Sabbath in December and the first in January.

TRIENNIAL CATALOGUE.

As far as to the year 1835, the names are recorded of all who became members of the Institution; and after that date, only of those who completed the regular course.

A star (*) prefixed to a name, indicates that the person has deceased.
